

ShopEase Refund Policy

Document Type: Customer Support Policy

Company: ShopEase

Policy Version: 1.0

Effective Date: September 30, 2026

1. Overview

ShopEase processes refunds for eligible orders after the applicable return, cancellation, or refund conditions have been satisfied.

The refund process may vary depending on the reason for the refund, payment method, and outcome of any required verification.

2. Refund Eligibility

A customer may be eligible for a refund when:

- An eligible returned product has been received and approved.
- An eligible order has been cancelled before fulfillment according to the applicable cancellation conditions.
- ShopEase determines that a refund is required because of an incorrect, damaged, or otherwise unresolved order issue.
- Another refund condition specified by ShopEase applies.

Refund eligibility should be determined using the applicable order and transaction information.

3. Return and Refund Are Separate Processes

A return request and a refund are not the same event.

The general process is:

Return requested

Return approved

Product returned

Product received and inspected

Refund processed

A customer may therefore have an approved return while the associated refund is still being processed.

4. Refund Processing

After the applicable conditions have been satisfied, ShopEase initiates the refund.

The time required for a refund can depend on:

- The payment method used for the order.
- Completion of return inspection where applicable.
- Internal refund processing.
- Processing by the payment provider or financial institution.

Customers may not receive the refunded amount immediately after ShopEase initiates the refund.

5. Refund Timeline

For eligible refunds, ShopEase generally processes the refund within 5 to 7 business days after the required return or refund verification has been completed.

The time for the amount to appear in the customer's account may vary depending on the payment provider.

The 5–7 business day processing period does not necessarily represent the time required by a bank or payment provider to make the funds available.

6. Original Payment Method

Where applicable, refunds are normally sent to the original payment method used for the order.

The final time for the amount to appear may depend on the payment provider.

Customers should contact their payment provider if ShopEase has confirmed that a refund was completed but the amount has not appeared within the provider's expected processing period.

7. Refund for Cancelled Orders

If an eligible order is cancelled and a refund is required, ShopEase may initiate the refund after the cancellation is successfully processed.

The refund status should be checked using the order's refund information.

Cancellation eligibility and refund processing are separate decisions.

8. Refund for Returned Products

For returned products:

1. The return request must be approved.
2. The product must be returned according to the provided instructions.
3. ShopEase receives the returned product where applicable.
4. The product may undergo an inspection.
5. If the refund conditions are satisfied, ShopEase processes the refund.

A refund may be delayed if the returned product requires additional verification.

9. Partial Refunds

In some situations, ShopEase may issue a partial refund instead of a full refund.

The applicable refund amount may depend on the order, product, issue, and resolution determined by ShopEase.

The support assistant must not invent or estimate a refund amount for a specific order without checking the relevant order or refund information.

10. Refund Status

Customers can ask ShopEase support about the status of a refund.

Examples of refund statuses include:

- Pending: A refund request or verification is still in progress.
- Processing: The refund is being processed.
- Completed: ShopEase has completed the refund process.
- Failed: The refund could not be completed and may require further investigation.

The exact refund status for a customer's order must be retrieved from the applicable refund system.

11. Specific Refund Questions

The general refund policy can answer questions such as:

- "How long does a refund normally take?"
- "How are refunds processed?"
- "Where does the refund go?"
- "What happens after I return an item?"

However, questions such as:

- "What is the refund status of ORD1005?"
- "Has my refund been processed?"
- "When will my refund for ORD1005 arrive?"

require order-specific refund information.

The ShopEase support assistant must check the appropriate business system instead of guessing.

12. Failed or Delayed Refunds

If a refund has not been completed within the expected processing period, the customer should contact ShopEase support.

Support may request:

- Order ID
- Refund ID, if available
- Payment method
- Relevant transaction information

ShopEase may investigate the issue and provide the next appropriate action.

13. Refund Amount

The support assistant must not calculate or invent a refund amount unless the relevant order or refund information is available.

For example:

Customer: "How much will I get back for ORD1005?"

The assistant should retrieve the applicable refund information rather than assuming the amount from the general policy.

14. Policy Questions vs. Refund Status Questions

General refund questions should use the ShopEase Refund Policy.

Specific refund-status questions should use customer-specific refund information.

Example:

General question:

"How long do refunds take?"

Answer source: Refund Policy.

Specific question:

"What is the status of refund REF5001?"

Answer source: Refund system/tool.

15. Contacting Support

If a refund issue cannot be resolved using the available refund information, the customer can contact ShopEase support.

Support may create a support ticket when further investigation is required.

16. Policy Updates

ShopEase may update its refund procedures and processing timelines.

The policy version and effective date should be checked when determining which refund rules apply.

17. Examples

Example 1 — General Refund Timeline

Customer: "How long does a refund take?"

Policy: ShopEase generally processes eligible refunds within 5–7 business days after the required return or refund verification has been completed. The payment provider may require additional time.

Example 2 — Specific Refund Status

Customer: "What is the status of my refund for ORD1005?"

Policy: The general policy cannot determine the status of a specific refund. The system must check the customer's refund information.

Example 3 — Refund After Return

Customer: "I returned my product but haven't received my money."

Policy: Return processing and refund processing are separate. The refund status should be checked, and support can investigate if the refund exceeds the expected processing period.

Example 4 — Refund Amount

Customer: "How much will I get refunded?"

Policy: The assistant should check the applicable order or refund information rather than estimating the amount.
